PAULEYS HELD IN INDIANAPOLIS

Couple, Who Mysteriously Disappeared From This City, Arrested on Loitering Charge.

FRAIL WIFE GARBED AS MALE

Their Neighbors Wonder Who Helped Them Take the Trunk Away— May Have Confederate.

Mrs. James Pauley's desire to remain by her husband's side through hours of labor as well as through hours of recreation caused the couple to be arrested in Indianapolis last evening and may be the reason for their strange actions while they remained in this city and resided in half of the Cline property at 507 North Harrison street.

The young bride of six months was garbed in male attire and her hair was cut short as was supposed to have been done when they mysteriously disappeared from this city, one week ago last night. But the people in North Harrison street have another theory for the couples' strange actions while in this city and since their disappearance.

The latest developments and the question which is yet unsolved, is what became of their trunk? On the day before their disappearance Mrs. Pauley was seen to pack clothing in a trunk. When they left the trunk went also and it was not taken to Indianapolis as they were arrested in the Terminal station and had no baggage whatever. The theory has been advanced that Pauley had a hand in the numerous robberies which have occurred recently in this city and the neighbors believe that if the trunk is found it will help clear the case and also show that he had a confederate.

The trunk is thought to be in this city and the man who is keeping it helped Pauley remove it from the house on the night they left. This theory seems very reasonable since he could not carry it very handily by himself, and his wife is such a frail woman that she would be unable to render an assistance, it would therefore be necessary to have some help.

It is very likely that the police here will not take any steps to have them brought back to this city, as no affidavits have been filed. McKee Brothers, who have a bill for $19 have written to his father in Liberty concerning the account and that of Mrs. Cline. They expect him to pay and if he does the local officers really have nothing against the man as there is no proof that he committed the robberies.

Mrs. Pauley is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Rogers of Richmond, Ind., and eloped last September to Covington, Ky., where she married Pauley.

The story they told the Indianapolis police is not given much credit here as it varies in several instances from the facts as the local officials know them. Concerning the arrest the Indianapolis Star says:

Devotion to the husband, according to the statement of both husband and wife, is the reason the girl donned the clothes of a man. Food and fuel were scarce in their home at Liberty and there apparently was no chance for the couple even to make a beginning. They decided upon Indianapolis as their best hope, but money was not forthcoming for their stay after they arrived here. The girl refused to be left at home even for a week and volunteered to make the trip and obtain work with her husband at whatever could be found for them to do.

It was the intention, they said last night to obtain employment at common labor and toil side by side. To

I. & C. TRAINMEN MET TODAY

Conferred With President, Charles L. Henry in This City.

The I. & C. trainmen met today with President Charles L. Henry in the general offices in this city. The meeting is one of several of its kind held during the course of the year and is for the purpose of bringing the men in closer relation with each other. Ideas are advanced and discussed for the betterment of rail-roading. The meeting will continue tomorrow.

JAMES PEA FINED IN MAYOR'S COURT

Found Guilty of Assault and Battery on Lige Pea After Two Delays.

$1 AND COSTS AND 10 DAYS

James Pea charged with assault and battery on Lige Pea was fined one dollar and costs and given ten days in jail this afternoon in mayor's court. After two delays on account of the inability of counsel for the defendant to appear, the case came up for trial. Several witnesses were examined, including City Marshal Jesse Harlow, Policemen Wolters and McAllister and Lige Pea. It was brought out that James Pea knocked Lige down and then dropped a paving brick on him. The defense tried to show that he was justified in the act because he had been provoked by Lige on numerous occasions. John Joyce defended Pea and George Young assisted Prosecutor Dennis O'Neil.

KNOWS DETAILS OF DYNAMITE CASE

Beverly White, Chicago Newspaper Man Who Was Here Talks Interestingly on Live Subject.

SOMETHING BACK OF THE FUND

Beverly White, advance agent for Gentry Brothers' show, and former Chicago newspaper man, who was in this city yesterday and a part of today, is well acquainted with the details of the famous dynamite case which is startling the United States at present by the startling developments which are being brought out by W. J. Burns and his operatives. He has been on the "inside" of the case, so to speak for a number of months and has been expecting just what happened to "break" for quite a time.

Mr. White spends his winters in Chicago doing special newspaper work, and while there last winter became acquainted with the details of the case through the Chicago police, with whom he is intimately acquainted. He was in Indianapolis Sunday when the dynamite was discovered in the American Central Life building and handled that end of the story for a Chicago newspaper. Mr. White fully expects that more arrests will follow and he feels certain that the gang of men who are charged with the dastardly work are guilty. It is his opinion that the officials of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers and similar organizations felt that the arrests of the last few days were coming, else they would not have raised a fund to defend the men now in custody.

MEANS WORK FOR POSTAL MEN

Sweeping Order From the Postmaster General Says Every Piece of Mail Must be Counted.

DURING THE MONTH OF MAY

Rural Carriers Must Also Weigh and Number Each Particle Delivered And Collected.

The month of May promises to be the hardest in the history of the Rushville postoffice for the employees as a result of an order received by Postmaster Charles Frazee yesterday.

The order is from Postmaster General Hitchcock, and was accompanied by a large number of blank forms which will be used in making reports of the work demanded by the department at Washington, D. C.

One clause of the order reads as follows: "You are hereby instructed to instruct each rural carrier on a route emanating from your office to determine the number and weight of the several classes of mail matter delivered and collected on his route each day for a period of one month."

The order goes on to say that every piece of mail, incoming or outgoing, must be classified and counted that is received at the Rushville office during the month of May. First the mail must be counted, then it must be classified as to first, second, third or fourth class. It is then to be separated into divisions including register, special and all frank mail, and the number of pieces in each division counted. The divisions include mailing department, box, city, rural and general delivery.

All outgoing mail received at the office must be separated into divisions, classified and counted the same as the incoming mail. In addition to classifying all mail as to first, second, third or fourth class each of these classes have subdivisions as follows:

First class; second class, newspapers at pound rate, magazines at pound rate, transient, with stamps affixed (1 cent for 4 ounces), local delivery (1 or 2 cents a copy), free in county; third class, circulars and other third class; fourth class; congressional franked, letters and other matter; other franked (including departmental), letters and other matter; foreign letters and other matter; registered.

Postmaster Frazee says that the new order means the greatest amount of work for the month of May that the office has ever been called upon to turn out in a single month and that it will be necessary for all the employees of the office to work as rapidly as possible and every minute of the time they are on duty. He and his deputy expect to help with the work every minute they can.

The new order does not apply to the Rushville office only, but to all the offices in this district, which includes Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky.

No excuse for the extra work has been forwarded from Washington, but it is the opinion of Mr. Frazee the department wishes to equalize the amount of expense money granted the various offices and that it is necessary to get the reports the department has called for in order to determine this. He says the local office will be ready to begin the arduous task next Monday morning, May 1.

G. A. R. MEETING.

The G. A. R. will hold their regular meeting tomorrow afternoon in the assembly room of the court house. A large attendance is desired as this is the last meeting before Decoration day and arrangements will be completed.

APRIL PLANTING IS IMPOSSIBLE

Due to Incessant Rains of Last Few Weeks Very Little Corn Ground is Broken

SEASON IS MANY WEEKS LATE

Farmers Who Would Plant the First Week in May Are Doomed to Disappointment.

Farmers are further behind with their work at present than they have been for many years, according to many prominent tillers of the soil living in the vicinity of Rushville. The incessant rains of the last few weeks have caused the ground to be so water-soaked that little progress has been made for over a month. The rains have ceased but the farmers have been able to do little work in the fields yet, due to the condition of the ground.

The result is that not one-half of the corn ground in Rush county has been broken. There are many able and scientific farmers who like to have their corn in the ground before the first of May, but the majority of them will be disappointed this year. Others think that the first or second week in May is time enough and still others, perhaps with more wisdom, adhere to the old rule, the blooming of the dogwood or the oak leaves. The greater part of those who wish to plant the first or second week in May are doomed to disappointment but it is very likely that most of the corn in Rush county will be planted by the time the dogwood begins to blossom out.

The best time to plant corn in any given season is best determined the following autumn after the crop has been gathered. Many philosophical farmers point out that the very delay that is now causing so much uneasiness may prove to be very useful. At any rate the rains of the last few weeks have had a good effect on the wheat crop and have benefited the grass which will be used for pasture, so farmers declare.

TO CONFER ON SERVICES

Committees Meet to Consider Union Lodge Decoration This Year.

It is likely that the condition of the street and road leading to East Hill cemetery which will be torn up shortly for the paving work, will interfere with the union lodge decoration services this year. Several of the secret orders have appointed committees who will confer with other orders and some plans will be announced soon. It has been the custom to observe the first Sunday in June as the day for the union services and at this time it is expected that traffic on the pike east of the city will be utterly impossible.

HOME FROM SWITZERLAND.

Mrs. Robert Mansfield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John K. Gowdy, arrived in this city this afternoon from Switzerland. Mr. Mansfield is the American Consul-General to Switzerland and stopped over in Washington, D. C. for a few days before coming to this city.

A baccalaureate sermon that was said to be far above the average was preached by the Rev. Clyde S. Black of the Glenwood Methodist church at the M. P. church in New Salem before the graduating class of that place Sunday night. The Rev. Mr. Black has received many compliments on the sermon.

WILL HAVE COURT RULES

Judge Blair Appoints Committee of Attorneys to Draft Them.

Judge Blair is to have a set of rules for the local court. Yesterday he appointed a committee composed of Donald Smith, John H. Kiplinger and Wallace Morgan to draft a set of rules and have them printed. Then the attorneys of the city will vote on them, and, in case they are adopted, they will be displayed in the court room. After that the rules will always be observed by the attorneys who plead and practice before the local bar.

NEW STENOGRAPHER IS NAMED BY COURT

Miss Nancy Hogsett is Appointed by Judge Blair to Succeed Miss Mae Bebout.

WILL BEGIN DUTIES AT ONCE

As a part of the opening program yesterday, Miss Nancy Hogsett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hogsett of West Fifth street, was appointed court stenographer to succeed Miss Mae Bebout. Miss Hogsett will begin her duties when the first case will be tried this term on next Thursday. Miss Hogsett has been a typist and stenographer here for the last few years and for a few months has been conducting an office of her own in the new Cutter building where she has been acting as a notary and public typist. Miss Hogsett only recently took special work in Indianapolis to prepare for the court work in case she received the appointment, which has been hanging fire since Judge Blair first assumed his duties here after the election last fall. Miss Bebout has been a very efficient court official and was appointed by Judge Will M. Sparks during his term after Lois Dawson Reeves resigned.

SCHOOL PATRONS RAISE BIG ROW

May Take Steps to Attempt to Force Trustee to Employ Dica Trobaugh at Glenwood.

ASKED FOR RE-APPOINTMENT

The patrons of the Glenwood schools are raising a row of considerable proportions because the trustee, William R. Martin, will not employ Miss Dica Trobaugh, the teacher of the primary department in the schools for the last few years, to teach again next year. At the close of the school year, the school patrons presented a petition to the trustee asking that he obtain the services of the popular teacher for another year. It seems that he refused to do so and the patrons are rightfully indignant. It is said that attorneys have been consulted, the school laws have been read carefully and that some of the patrons are making active preparations to fight the case. It is not known whether or not the trustee has hired a successor. Miss Trobaugh seems to be the unanimous choice for the position.

THE WEATHER.

REGISTRY LAW WILL BE LUXURY

Boards Which Will Meet Three Times Each Election Year Will Cost Approximately $5,000.

INSPECTOR AND TWO CLERKS

Expense Will be More Than Twice as Heavy as That Incurred by Regular Election.

That the new registration law which is a product of the last General Assembly, will be very costly to Rush county is evidenced by the many little things that will cost the taxpayers and which must be paid for. It has been estimated that the law will cost Rush county at least five thousand dollars before the three registry days will have become a matter of history.

In every precinct in the county, and the same clause holds good all over the State, a board consisting of an inspector and two clerks shall hold three sessions during each election year; one in May, another in September and another in October, twenty-one days before the election. Owing to the very loose wording of the law, it is possible for the board to sit three days at each session. The members of the board are paid the liberal rate of four dollars per day. All they need to do in order to be in session three days at each meeting is to "discover" five voters who will petition them to remain together during that period of time. Each man would receive twelve dollars for each board meeting of a total of thirty-six dollars for the three meetings during the year. Then the cost of the board in each precinct for a year would be one hundred and eight dollars. There are thirty-two precincts in the county, which means that the wages of the members of the boards alone will cost the taxpayers $3,456.

There are numerous other expenses which will be incurred by the board. Each member of the various boards must be fed while they are working for the county and receiving four dollars a day for their trouble. The meals generally come at fifty cents each and it is easily possible to figure what that would amount to with ninety-six men having hungry mouths and asking for feed.

The law further stipulates that there shall be a certain amount of legal advertising, the cost of which will reach one hundred dollars or more. Aside from that the stationery of the board will amount to about one hundred and fifty dollars, so it has been estimated.

The new law does specify, however, that the boards shall be in session from 5 a. m. until 6 p. m. and shall continue until 8 o'clock p. m. if applicants for registry shall appear every five minutes. Here would be 15 straight hours which clearly entitle board members, under the election law, to two days' pay. And election boards are not, as a rule, given to asking less than the law gives them and no one can blame them for that.

That is only some of the "little things" in the law which have been pointed out by local attorneys. The election of last year only cost about two thousand dollars, while one session of the registry boards all over the county will make that much money look like thirty cents.

SMALLPOX SCARE OVER.

Shelbyville is now over the smallpox scare that had two or three weeks ago, all the special officers with but one exception have been discharged and the smallpox physician has completed his work. The quarantine has been lifted at all but five homes and it will be lifted today or tomorrow.

Women's Secrets

There is one man in the United States who has perhaps heard more women's secrets than any other man or woman in the country. These secrets are not secrets of guilt or shame, but the secrets of suffering, and they have been confided to Dr. R. V. Pierce in the hope and expectation of advice and help. That few of these women have been disappointed in their expectations is proved by the fact that ninety-eight per cent. of all women treated by Dr. Pierce have been absolutely and altogether cured. Such a record would be remarkable if the cases treated were numbered by hundreds only. But when that record applies to the treatment of more than half-a-million women, in a practice of over 40 years, it is phenomenal, and entitles Dr. Pierce to the gratitude accorded him by women, as the first of specialists in the treatment of women's diseases.

Every sick woman may consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, absolutely without charge. All replies are mailed, sealed in perfectly plain envelopes, without any printing or advertising whatever, upon them. Write without fear as without fee, to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, Pres., Buffalo, N. Y.

MOYER SAYS THE CASE IS SIMPLY A FRAMEUP

Compares McNamara's Arrest to His Own Experience.

Denver, April 25.—As a defense fund for Secretary McNamara of the structural iron workers, the Western Federation of Miners, for which Harry Orchard was chief dynamiter, stands ready to levy an assessment of $5 against each of 50,000 members.

This statement was made by Charles H. Moyer, president of the Western Federation. He said: "I consider the entire affair a frame-up similar to the one I myself and my associates experienced some years ago in connection with the death of former Governor Steunenberg of Idaho. The arrest of McNamara shows on its face that it is a frame-up. He was treated exactly as we were. He was not given a single show, either by the governor of Indiana or the court of Marion county. The charge that dynamite was kept by McNamara in the headquarters of his organization is silly. If he was in the blowing-up business he would have had too much sense to keep dynamite around his headquarters. It is very easy to hire orchards to plant dynamite where the detectives who paid them to plant it can find it.

"The people instrumental in McNamara's arrest will have to produce good evidence to show why he wanted to blow up the Los Angeles Times when he is a member of the structural iron workers.

"Their case might have looked better had they arrested a member of the typographical union. The Western Federation went through just such a siege. It is hard on the individual, but it strengthens the organization and solidifies labor. All unions came to our support and now the Western Federation will reciprocate. We will take official notice of the arrests as soon as it is necessary, and we stand ready to levy and pay an assessment of $5 each on a membership of 50,000 to help defray the expenses of this, the second great fight that has been started by the enemies of organized labor against its principles."

BLEW UP CHURCH

Mexican Rebels Made an Unusual Attack at Parras.

El Paso, Tex., April 25.—Advices from Torreon state that after one of the bloodiest fights in the history of the present revolution, Parras has been captured by a force of 300 rebels. At the first sign of trouble many people congregated in the church towers and in the girls' school, where they sought refuge. Disregarding the command to vacate them, both buildings are said to have been blown up with dynamite, killing a number of persons. The federals fought but were outnumbered.

Golden Sun Coffee

meets the tastes of the five distinct classes of coffee lovers in America. No other coffee house has ever attempted this—no other has had the experience, the facilities, the volume of business to make it possible.

In Five Blends

Under the general name of Golden Sun Coffee we touch the spot for every coffee palate: If you like a keen, tangy, sparkling cup, choose Karex. For a piquant, high-flavored coffee, select Navarre. The soft, mellow, velvety kind is Briardale. Vienna makes a rich, savory, aromatic coffee. Mocha & Java makes that distinct brew produced only by the most expert blending of these grades.

Your grocer will take special interest in sending your particular Blend, for it settles all the old coffee troubles and enables him to insure coffee satisfaction.

WOMAN FIGURES WITH WRECKERS

"Jane Doe" Wanted By Los Angeles Authorities.

A REQUISITION ON INDIANA

In the Papers Submitted to Governor Marshall by the California Authorities There is a Requisition For an Unnamed Woman, and Much Speculation Is Being Indulged in as to Her Identity.

Indianapolis, April 25.—In the papers filed with Governor Marshall by the California officers when they applied for requisition papers is found evidence that the proverbial "woman in the case" will appear in the sensational events that are now stirring industrial circles and the country in general resulting from the arrest of J. J. McNamara, secretary-treasurer of the International Bridge and Structural Iron Workers' association. There is also evidence that other arrests than J. J. McNamara's will follow.

The papers ask for the requisition of six persons—J. J. McNamara, O. E. McManigal, John Styles, Jane Doe, John Doe and Richard Roe. McNamara and McManigal are already under arrest, but John Styles and the three persons represented by Richard Roe, John Doe and Jane Doe are still free from arrest.

The papers are a transcript of the findings of the grand jury of Los Angeles county and they accuse the persons signified with the crime of destroying the Times building and the Llewellyn Iron works.

As to the woman designated as Jane Doe there is much speculation. It is said that between ten and fifteen of Burns' operatives are in Indianapolis and have been since Thursday, and that several persons not yet arrested are under surveillance, and the first step they make to leave the city will result in their arrest and detention.

FOUR SUSPECTED

Cleveland Officers Expect to Make Arrests in Wreckers' Case.

Cleveland, O., April 25.—Following the arrests made by Detective Burns in connection with the blowing up of the Los Angeles Times plant and other buildings, it is expected that four arrests will be made in this city in connection with the dynamiting of the big Brown hoist conveyor of the ore docks of the Corrigan-McKinney company here Nov. 9, 1909. The mystery surrounding the dynamiting of the conveyor at the Randall ore docks of the Erie railroad this winter also may be cleared up. The first explosion caused a loss of $50,000. The last one did $10,000 damage.

The officers of the local union of structural iron men do not fear any investigation, they say. They declare their books are open to inspection. Last night they adopted a vote of confidence in McNamara, and will provide financial assistance for him.

ELUDED PURSUERS

Kaplan and Schmidt Prove Too Alert For the Burns Men.

Chicago, April 25.—Just as detectives were about to swoop down on the last two members of the gang of dynamiters charged with wrecking the plant of the Los Angeles Times, it was found that the men had eluded their pursuers. Matt Schmidt, who until four days ago was under surveillance in this city, cannot be found by the sleuths. Harry Kaplan, the other member of the gang of five, is just as elusive. This was admitted by officials of the Burns agency, who only twenty-four hours before were confident that all that was necessary was to stretch out their nets and the two men would be entangled in their meshes.

MORE DYNAMITE

Is Being Sought by Police in Cincinnati, Home of the McNamaras.

Cincinnati, April 25.—A package of letters found by officers in the employ of W. J. Burns in the home of Mrs. John A. McNamara, sr., of this city, is said to contain valuable evidence. Detective Kelly said that he will take these letters as well as the electrical equipment found in the home of Mrs. McNamara to Los Angeles and that they will be used there against John J. and James McNamara.

Detective Kelly also said that the police will make a thorough search in different parts of Cincinnati for dynamite and nitroglycerine, which are believed to be hidden here.

Mr. Cox Was Out of Order.

Washington, April 25.—The house passed a resolution reported from the appropriations committee making mileage for the session available at once. This amounts to about $50,000. An amendment by Representative Cox of Indiana to reduce from 20 cents a mile an average of 7½ cents was declared out of order by Speaker Clark.

Books of Iron Workers Being Examined.

MOVE TO REPLEVIN BLOCKED

Marion County Authorities Successfully Resist Efforts of the Union to Get Back Books Seized in Raid on Iron Workers' Office at Time Secretary McNamara, Alleged Head of Gang of Dynamiters, Was Arrested.

Indianapolis, April 25.—W. J. Ford, assistant prosecuting attorney of Los Angeles; Walter Drew of the erectors' association of New York, and Frank Fox, proprietor of a taxicab company, were arrested here last night charged with kidnapping John J. McNamara, and were released under $5,000 bonds. The proceedings against them were brought about by members of the executive board of the iron workers' union.

Indianapolis, April 25.—Frank Ryan, president of the structural iron workers, who, with all the members of the executive board of the union, was summoned before the grand jury, was ordered to produce the books and other records of the office. He sent nearly a cartload over to the courthouse. Many of the records had been removed to the police station, and these were also sent to the jury room.

The attorney of the iron workers made an effort to replevin these records from the hands of the police, but was met by the court with the statement that there is no law in Indiana by which evidence can be taken away from a grand jury, or even records into which it is looking for the purpose of ferretting out crime. Among the books taken by the police were passbooks for five years of J. J. McNamara, the secretary-treasurer, and it is said that these show sums were paid out mysteriously when taken in connection with the check stubs showing for what and to whom the amounts were paid.

The police would not admit, however, that the check stubs give them any clue to McNamara's connection with the dynamiting, for which he is under arrest and now on his way to California.

First Suspicious Circumstance.

It has developed that J. D. Forrest, general manager of the Citizens' Gas company, was the first man to direct the attention of detectives to the iron workers' organization as being engaged in dynamite outrages throughout the country.

"The first job McNamara's alleged wrecking crew is supposed to have done in Indianapolis was at the plant of the Citizens' Gas company about Sept. 1, 1909," said Forrest. "Two large charges of dynamite were discharged by time fuses at the base of columns supporting the overhead coal bin that supplies the coke ovens. The delay and the incidental expenses connected with the outrage threw on the new gas company an expense of at least $25,000."

The Citizens' Gas company employed a private detective to attempt to discover the persons who perpetrated the outrage. This detective fell in with a gang of structural iron workers who Mr. Forrest says he feels certain, from evidence gathered, did the work. Later Mr. Forrest got reliable information, he says, that made him feel positive that J. J. McNamara was the man who directed the work at the gas company's plant and elsewhere. It would have cost the Citizens' Gas company $25,000 to get the complete information, and Mr. Forrest says for that reason the effort to bring McNamara to justice was dropped temporarily by the company. However, after the Los Angeles Times explosions, Mr. Forrest was asked by the authorities at Los Angeles to give them what information he had.

Will Swell Police Force.

Los Angeles, Cal., April 25.—Orders have been issued to fill all vacancies in the police department at once. No secret was made of the fact that this order is a result of the arrests in the east by Burns' men of the alleged dynamiters and indicates the feeling of apprehension on all sides of the forthcoming labor union struggle when the trial of the accused men is held here.

One of the Camorristi on trial picked out his glass eye and threw it on the floor. This must have been an eye-opener.

A little crushed stone sprinkled now and then will do some good but in a short time the street is as bad as it ever was. Road building would be cheaper and would bring better results, so it seems, by building a square at a time and building it correctly.

In view of the way the Supreme court makes over our laws, is Congress degenerating into a kind of a nominating committee?

It used to be mighty convenient for the Douglas, Ariz., people to step over the line when a policeman came along but now they have to pay for it.

Reciprocity seems likely to pass, and business men along the border can deliver goods by train instead of through the woods on dark nights.

The air ship Parseval landed in a swamp over in Germany, Friday, and the passengers must have been glad for a good squishy place to jump into.

The D. A. R. ets called each other self seekers and picaresque politicians.
The next time we have a vacancy in the position of fighting editor, we know where to look for a lively candidate.

No man should have a statue until he has been dead 75 years, says ex-Gov. Long of Massachusetts. It would save the sculptors embarrassment to have no one living that knew how their subject looked.

Mexican investments looked golden a few years ago. But under present circumstances, we'd rather have our money in the old country savings bank with its antique ledgers and obsolete furniture and single clerk.

The number of people which call at the Daily Republican office and inquire about clean-up day are almost numberless. They can hardly understand why such a move has not been taken by the city authorities in setting aside a day and ordering that the city shall be cleaned of its debris.
The movement, when it was first instituted here, was one of the most popular ones and was entered into by all of the people of Rushville with a spirit of good will that resulted in a spotless town. It seems that is high time that some local organization should boost the movement and give it sufficient impetus to cause an action on the part of the city officials.
The cost to the city would be very meagre but the influence which the administration have, if such a day is ordered, can hardly be estimated.

Let's all climb aboard the cleanup wagon and boost for a spotless town.

The recent legislature enacted a new law regulating the keeping for sale or use of gasoline, benzine, naphtha and kerosene.

The law provides that it "shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to keep for sale or for use or to sell any gasoline, benzine or naphtha in any barrel, cask, package or can, unless the same is painted red, or to keep for sale or use or to sell any kerosene in any barrel, cask, package or can if same is painted red: Provided, however, that in case of gasoline, benzine or naphtha being sold in bottles for cleaning and similar purposes it shall be deemed sufficient if the contents are so designated by a red label securely pasted or attached thereto, bearing the words gasoline, benzine or naphtha, all barrels, casks, packages or cans containing gasoline shall have plainly printed thereon in black letters not less than one inch in height the word gasoline: Provided, however, that provisions of this act shall not apply to any barrel, cask, package, can or other receptacle, the capacity of which is over 50 gallons."

The penalty for violations of the new act is a fine of not less than $5 or more than $50 or by imprisonment in the county jail not to exceed 90 days or both.

SUCCUMBS IN IOWA

Mrs. Lois Birch Will be Laid to Rest in Charlottesville.

Relatives and friends here have received word of the death of Mrs. Lois Hill-Birch, wife of Earl Birch of Cedar Falls, Iowa. Her death occurred at six o'clock Sunday morning and the body was expected to arrive in Charlottesville today, where burial will take place. Mrs. Birch was a daughter of William B. Hill of Carthage. The family formerly lived two miles south of Charlottesville. She leaves a husband and two children.

Social Events

The members of the Tri Kappa sorority were very pleasantly entertained at the home of Miss Florence Frazee in North Harrison street last evening. Guy De Maupassant was the author whose life and works were studied as a part of the evening's program. Miss Pearl Kitchen, assisted by other members of the sorority, gave a brief synopsis of two of his books, "The Necklace" and "The Piece of String." Miss Pearl Kitchen gave the biography. Light refreshments were served.

Amusements

The Palace will show the usual two reels of pictures tonight. The first is a Kalem film, "The Hero Track Walker." It tells the story of a track walker finding dynamite in time to keep a bridge from being blown up, and saves the lives of a number of passengers. The other picture is a Vitagraph comedy entitled "Three Men and a Maid." A new illustrated song will be sung.

The Star Grand's special program including Buffalo Bill's and Pawnee Bill's shows will be shown for the last time this evening. Good crowds were attracted to the theater last night by the three reels which were shown. The three films show the two shows in detail. The pictures were taken while the show was actually in progress and it is reproduced as clearly as with as much effect as if the audience were in the tent and could smell the sawdust. The films are in excellent condition and show the performances to good advantage.

The Vaude will offer an excellent program to its patrons tonight with three reels of pictures. They will show two Imps and a Nestor. "The Revolving Doors," and Imp film, is a comedy, said to portray a rather intricate plot which is not fully understood until the very last of the story. "A Deal in Indians" is a Nestor and has to do with the many features of the early life on the plains before the Indians were civilized. "The Two Daughters" is an Imp drama which is acted by the members of the Imp all-star stock company, which has made the pictures very popular. Miss Iva Brown plays the piano at the theater now while Chester B. Worth plays the trap drums. A new illustrated song will be on this evening's program.

Marie Cahill, who is known the world over as one of the foremost comedienne, will appear at the Shubert Murat theater, Indianapolis, Friday and Saturday and Saturday matinee, April 28, and 29, in "Judy Forgot," a new musical comedy that for months proved a New York success. "Judy" is distinguished by a plot of unique complications and farcical situations, tuneful numbers, picturesque costumes and scenic surprises. The production is made by Daniel V. Arthur. The book is by Avery Hopwood and the score is by Silvio Hein, composer of all of Miss Cahill's hits. As Judy, the bride who forgot, Miss Cahill's piquant personality and fun-making powers are seen at their best and her song hits are "Whoop La La," "Good Morning Judge" and "The Turkish Love Song." And Judy's gowns are numerous, modish and apparently as costly as such creations can be. Dancing, both chorus and the individual work of Emma Francis and Joseph Santley is a feature of the performance.

The scenes of the play are laid in Switzerland and Marienbad, Bohemia, and the story sets forth the amusing experiences of a bride, Judy, (Miss Cahill) who after leaving her husband because of a quarrel temporarily loses her memory, gets identified as an actress and, not knowing any better lays claim to the actress' husband. Then follows a series of marital entanglements which is rapidly approaching the scandal stage when an accident suddenly restores Judy's memory—and domestic peace.

Among others in the cast are Arthur Stanford, Joseph Santley, James B. Carson, W. H. St. James, Maude Meredith, Emma Francis and a chorus of sixty young, pretty and shapely girls who can actually sing and dance. There are nineteen musical numbers, the most important of which are "The Star Factory," a sextette novelty, "Thinky, Thanky, Think," Miss Cahill's satirical hit, "The Society Circus," a unique travesty and "My Soldier Boy," a spectacular concerted number. Other favorites are "The Song of the Honey-moon," "Give me All the Flowers," "Women's Eyes," "My Toreador," and the popular "Judy Waltz." The fact that Miss Cahill will be on the stage when the curtain rises is one of the "Judy" surprises.

LAWYER AND CLIENT SETTLE

Mary Enloe of Illinois Dismisses Suit Against Wallace Morgan.

The matter in dispute having been adjusted, the case of Mary Enloe of Illinois against Wallace Morgan, a Rushville attorney and formerly deputy prosecutor in Rush county, has been dismissed in federal court, says the Indianapolis News. The plaintiff, an heir of Mrs. Maria Dinwiddie of Rushville, who died in 1893, leaving her estate of $95,000 to the commissioners of that county for the purpose of establishing "The Dinwiddie Home," brought suit to set aside the will. She alleges she was entitled to the remainder of $5,000 from a settlement of the claims after Morgan, as attorney, had deducted his contingent fee. He had paid her only $2,500, she alleged, and suit was brought for an accounting.

PLAN FOR NEW STRUCTURE

Two Architects Submit Plans For the New Salem School Building.

Although the county council has not yet appropriated the money for the erection of a new school building in New Salem to replace the one condemned by the State Board of Health, already plans are being made for its erection this summer. The trustee and the advisory board of the township met yesterday and talked over the plans which will probably be used in constructing the building. Two architects have already submitted plans and the board and trustee must decide on the plan of the building before the county council will appropriate money, so that the probable cost will be known. The bids will not be received until after the appropriation is made.

CHAPTER VIII.

AFTER breakfast Phillip slipped away by himself for a few moments against the time when Breed should call upon him or send for him to take up the heavy projects they had under way. He walked back toward the kitchen garden, where Blagg, having finished breakfast in the housekeeper's dining room with old Fergus, Breed's secretary, had already preceded him. Blagg was leaning over the fence, listening, with a grim smile, to a tirade from Ben White.

"Why," White was demanding, "has this man the power to hire me, to hire anybody? Why is it possible in this country of so called equal opportunities for one man to accumulate wealth enough to hire a hundred people to wait on him? Why is our social condition such that the stronger can oppress the weaker?"

"Possibly, Ben," broke in Phillip, "so that only the stronger shall survive, as has been the law since Cain killed Abel."

Both White and Blagg had turned, startled at the interruption, but now Blagg fixed upon Phillip a searching eye and declared:

"You don't believe quite what you say, Mr. Kelvin."

"Quite true," admitted Phillip. "It becomes necessary, however, to say such absurd things in order to bring down the general average of what my friend Citizen White says."

White, still bleached with the traces of his one time plastering business, looked up with a smile. "Good morning, plutocrat," he observed. "Here is one plutocrat, Blagg, whom I am bound to save when the revolution comes. He secured our places here for my daughter and myself."

"When the revolution comes we'll see about it," said Blagg, laughing, and walked away.

"There's a smart man," said White, nodding in the direction of Blagg. "He has all the facts of our social condition at his finger tips. He can tell you how many people starved last year, and he can tell you why they starved. He can show you in our scheme of government the hundred flaws which permit all these vicious inequalities of wealth."

"Can he tell you," quizzed Phillip, "why shiftless men fall in business? Why drones hang to the lowest positions? Why unambitious workmen are the first to be laid off when a pinch comes? Why improvident people have nothing saved for a rainy day? It is all very well to talk of inequalities, but most of the talk I have heard has been irrational and so useless. I think our sociological mistakes can be remedied and will be remedied, but if the remedy were left to the people who talk most about it we would have things radically wrong the other way. How are those wonderful string beans getting on?"

"Fine!" replied White, brightening. "Come inside and look at them," and, touched upon the point of his greatest enthusiasm, he showed Phillip about his garden.

Mrs. White and Elsie came across from the Whites' cottage. Elsie had run down for an early morning call and was on her way into the garden. Seeing Phillip, she was about to return to the house instead, but her mother dragged her on.

"Good for sore eyes to see you, Phillip," hailed Mrs. White. "We owe a mighty lot to you, Mr. Kelvin, and it's fine to get a chance to thank you. Goodness, we've been here an age. It seems, and we haven't seen you once in all that time!"

"I have been rather busy, Mrs. White," said Phillip, "but you may rest assured that I have not forgotten my old friends."

"I knew you hadn't," she returned heartily. "I told Elsie so."

In the meantime Blagg had gone to his operating room, and, having tested his instruments and made ready for the day's work, he went to the window overlooking the garden and gazed out in deep thought.

Young Rensselaer strolled into the room, partly to escape from his aunt's insistence that he should court and

A NEW HAVEN CHILD

Restored to Health by Vinol—Case Interests Many Parents.

My little daughter ever since her birth had been frail and sickly, and was a constant source of worry. Several months ago I secured a bottle of Vinol and commenced to give it to her. I immediately noted an improvement in her health and appearance. I gave her three bottles of Vinol, and from the good it has done her I can truly say it will do all you claim, and I want to recommend Vinol to any one who desires to build up a weakened, run-down system."—J. Edmund Miller, New Haven, Conn. (We guarantee this testimonial to be genuine.)

This child's recovery was due to the combined action of the medicinal elements of cod's livers—aided by the blood making and strength creating properties of tonic iron, which are contained in Vinol—and the strongest evidence that Vinol will build up and strengthen delicate children old people, and the weak, run-down and debilitated, is our willingness to return the purchase money in every case where it fails to give complete satisfaction. marry Lillian Breed and partly because both Blagg and his art interested him.

"Kelvin seems to be a nice sort of fellow," said Blagg.

"I should say he is!" declared Rensselaer. "I punched cows with him for six months out in Montana, and I never found a better or squarer fellow anywhere."

"Yes," admitted Blagg, "if the world were made up of people exactly like Kelvin it would be all right; they would all have an equal chance. But since the world contains but a few men like him he is dangerous."

"Nonsense!" replied Rensselaer. "Why?"

"Because he alone, aided by Breed's money, was able to destroy a tremendous institution like the Stock Exchange," returned Blagg heatedly. "It should have been wiped out of existence, no doubt, but in the process of breaking it up thousands of helpless poor were thrown out of employment and faced starvation, and these are the people who invariably suffer. Then Kelvin, by merely opening his mouth with Breed's consent, stops the panic. What does he do? He issues to the press this morning an announcement that the cash drain has stopped, that Breed no longer requires shipments of actual money for his bread, and that $100,000,000 of currency, a very small percentage of what he has taken in, is to be put back into circulation. What happens next? Immediately confidence will be restored; people will go back to work. Don't you see the monstrous thing in this? The very lives of hundreds of thousands of men, women and children have depended upon this man's word! It is monstrous! Some day that system will be swept away."

WORLD'S FAMOUS DYSPEPSIA PRESCRIPTION

It Drives Away Stomach Distress in A few Minutes, Stops Heartburn and Belching.

If you have anything the matter with your stomach you ought to know right now that MI-O-NA stomach tablets are guaranteed by F. B. Johnson and Company to cure indigestion or any sickness caused by indigestion, such as the following, or money back:

Sick headache, biliousness, dizziness, nervousness, sour stomach, fermentation of food, belching of gas, heavy feeling at pit of stomach, vomiting of pregnancy, or sickness caused by over indulgence the night before.

If your meals don't digest but lie like a lump of lead in your stomach; if you have foul breath and loss of appetite, a few MI-O-NA tablets will put your stomach in fine shape in short order.

If you or any of your family suffer from stomach trouble of any kind get a 50 cent box of MI-O-NA stomach tablets at once. F. B. Johnson and Company and druggists everywhere sell MI-O-NA on money back plan.

One Conductor Helped Back to Work.

Mr. Wilford Adams is his name, and he writes: "I was confined to my bed with chronic rheumatism and used two bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy with good effect. The third bottle put me on my feet and I resumed work as conductor on the Lexington, Ky., Street Railway. It will do all you claim in cases of rheumatism." It clears the blood of uric acid. F. B. and with it must be swept young Kelvin and all his kind."

"You talk like Kelvin himself used to talk out on the ranch," Rensselaer remarked. "Kelvin has his own dreams of reform. You ought to compare notes."

"I doubt if our dreams would be found to be of the same stuff," returned Blagg grimly. "The only ones benefited by his activity are a very few of his own kind. Breed and himself chiefly. Take the gardener out there. He and his family would have starved had not Kelvin personally secured them these places, because he used to board with them when he was poor."

"See the sunshine and hear the little birds twitter," dippantly interrupted Rensselaer. "In the meantime would it not be a pity to sweep out of existence such a tall, well built, good looking, decent sort of chap as Kelvin?"

Phillip and Elsie had by this time left the garden and were now walking slowly toward the house.

"Yes," Blagg admitted, "it would, and it makes it all the harder when you see so beautiful a girl as that looking up at him with that amount of adoration."

Lillian Breed, coming from a cross path just behind Phillip and Elsie and half concealed by shrubbery, stopped instantly as she saw them, clutching her hand upon her breast and half crouching.

"Look at that girl!" said Rensselaer. "In figure she is positively the most beautiful creature I have ever seen. But she is beautiful like a cat, like a tigress."

He glanced at Blagg's face and half recoiled. It flashed upon him instantly that if Lillian were a tigress here was the male of her species. His eyes were blazing, and his lips were parted in almost a snarl as he viewed the succeeding tableau. Lillian suddenly advanced upon Kelvin and Elsie, startling them both. They found her smiling. Blagg and Rensselaer could see her give some brief but peremptory directions to Elsie, and the maid, hastily taking a basket from Phillip's hand, hurried into the house. Phillip, outwardly unmoved, saw her go, and outwardly unmoved he walked with Lillian out of view around the wing of the house.

"And the queer thing of it," said Rensselaer a trifle regretfully, "is that he doesn't care a hang for either of them."

"That's it!" exclaimed Blagg. "That's just what I'm telling you. He cares for no creature in this world but himself!"

"I don't believe that either," declared Rensselaer.

As Henry Breed, released from Zephphan and breakfast, opened the door of Kelvin's office Lillian started hastily from the back of Phillip's chair, over which she had been leaning. The girl was confused, but the young man was not.

"How nearly do you know?" asked Breed, ignoring the girl altogether.

Kelvin, his map put away now, bent over a very large sheet of white cardboard, ruled and cross ruled in blue and red, and swept his eye across the diagrammatically arranged figures.

"The situation clears up more the further I go into it," said he. "Out of the panic we have emerged with a considerable profit in cash and with actual possession of 18 per cent of the New York Central and about the same of the Pennsylvania, Southern and Union Pacific, Northern Pacific, Southern railway and New Haven groups. These practically govern all other railroads."

Breed sat down upon the stiff settee which Kelvin had insisted upon having in this room instead of a padded Morris chair. His beady eyes glittered above his hawklike nose; his pointed chin was tilted.

"Is it enough?" he asked. "I want absolute control of every mile of railroad in the United States."

"I think you have enough," replied Kelvin.

Breed looked at him questioningly, then he turned sharply to his granddaughter. "Lillian, you had better run along and get ready if you are going out upon the links with us."

"I want to stay!" she declared. "Grandfather, do you know what you are doing to me? I have all the nervous energy you failed to bequeath to my father. You coop me up here. I must have an interest in something, something big, or I shall go mad! I tell you I shall die if I have no battle to fight except myself and the social inanities which Mrs. Rensselaer is presumed to teach me before I may show myself in Madison avenue!" she declared. "As an ambition that does not seem to promise much scope. I want larger things. They cannot be too large. I, too, would build an empire or destroy one!"

Kelvin looked quietly up at her. She was a picture of striking beauty, but there was about her a certain savagery, such as a Lucrèce Borgia might have had, Kelvin thought, or such as animated the woman vultures of the French revolution.

Henry Breed was possessed of no such dramatic comparisons. "Leave the room!" he said curtly. She whirled upon her heel and strode out the door, slamming it behind her.

Dr. Zephphan followed her with his eyes, but a half smile was still lurking under his beard. The other two heaved sighs when she was gone. Breed dismissed the episode immediately.

"Now you may explain," he told Kelvin.

"Well," said Kelvin, "the entire railroad map is changed since the panic. All the names familiar to the railroad world have passed into history. Next week they will have been forgotten. Not one of them can rise again from the wreck."

Breed nodded his head in comprehension, and his thin, flexible lips bent into a cruel smile. "I know," said he. "There is a red mark upon each of their photographs."

Kelvin nodded briefly. "But these men have shown us the way. Let me give you an illustration the control of one man. For five years he denied that he had any interest in a certain large road. But there came a time when a holding company in which he was interested had secured 15 per cent of the stock of that road, and this 15 per cent was the largest single minority holding. The man in question held in his own name less than 10 per cent of the stock of the holding company, but it was to the interest of every member that he nominate his own directors and control the destiny of the company. Through this control, therefore, he virtually possessed personally that 15 per cent of the stock of the big railroad. With that 15 per cent he sent in his own name an appeal to the scattered stockholders for proxies, and through his personal prestige he came into the stockholders' meeting of the big road voting 60 per cent of the stock and put through his own slate of directors and officers. Then, through similar means and through this one road, he controlled all its branches and dependents, aggregating many thousands of miles, and all despite the fact that he himself actually held not 1 per cent of the value of all this stock!"

Breed nodded his head. "I have a check mark upon that man's photograph too. This deal was a part of the pyramid which crushed him."

"But it can't crush you," returned Phillip. He poised his pencil over different points in his diagram, where opposite the name of each road was set its total number of outstanding stocks and bonds.

"You are the only man in the world today who is able to bring practically endless resources to the support of any project," he continued. "For instance, with an actual holding of less than 1 per cent of the total stock of all the railroad corporations in the United States, you are able to dominate every mile of iron highway, to depose or elevate any man in the railroad business, from brakeman to president—that is, after you have taken the reins. You have only one rival."

Breed raised his head quickly. "Rollins?" he said.

"Sumner Rollins," repeated Kelvin.

"What made you think so? You spoke of him yesterday."

"I met him during the days of the panic. Railroads are a hobby with him. He thinks that, with proper management, they can be made practically safe to the public and still yield better dividends. He is a conservative man, who has never speculated upon margin—in fact, he is one of the few men whom your campaign against the Stock Exchange and Stock Exchange methods could not affect. During the closing days of the panic, when such stocks as Northern Pacific were reduced to the absurd figure of twenty-nine, Rollins was in the market to buy actual stock for spot cash, and in several of these roads he is today the second minority stockholder to yourself. I kept close record of his transactions, and, in fact, I sold him some Northern Pacific and some New Haven myself."

"You did!" exclaimed Breed, surprised and not altogether pleased.

A HEALTHY, HAPPY OLD AGE

May be promoted by those who gently cleanse the system, now and then, when in need of a laxative remedy, by taking a desertspoonful of the ever refreshing, wholesome and truly beneficial Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, which is the only family laxative generally approved by the most eminent physicians, because it acts in a natural, strengthening way and warms and tones up the internal organs without weakening them. It is equally beneficial for the very young and the middle aged, as it is always efficient and free from all harmful ingredients. To get its beneficial effects it is always necessary to buy the genuine, bearing the name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package. WILL DIE A MARTYR TO UNIONISM, HE SAYS

Jim McNamara Makes Bold Threat Enroute.

Lexington Junction, Mo., April 25.—
"You never will get us to Los Angeles alive," was the declaration made aboard the Santa Fe flyer by James W. McNamara, who with his brother, John J. McNamara and Ortie McManigal, is accused of blowing up the Los Angeles Times building, according to officers having the men in charge. On this train are James McNamara and McManigal.

"I, for one, will die a martyr to unionism. The capitalists are oppressing the workingmen and making laws to suit their own ends through bribery. If I had not been arrested the working people soon would have acquired the right to live decently.

"This train will either be wrecked or blown up before we reach Los Angeles. I have eluded my captors enough to get word to my friends to see that we do not get to the coast alive."

When the prisoners arrived here
McNamara was morose and downcast, while McManigal was cheerful. Mc-Namara was so surly he even refused to be shaved.

Locked in a special car, hands and feet manacled and closely guarded by four officers, McNamara and McMani-gal are now being hurried to Los Angeles. The officers refused to permit anyone to talk with the prisoners.
McManigal tried to escape just before the train reached Kansas City, by grappling with Detective Reed.

"I would have got all of you if I had laid my hands on that gun," he declared after being subdued.

TO BE PREPARED FOR SECOND WAR

Madero Insists His Men Shall Retain Arms.

THEY MAY BE NEEDED AGAIN

In Case the Diaz Promises Are Not Kept, Revolutionary Leader Thinks
It Will Be Well For Present Insurrectos to Have Their Guns Handy, and Retention of Arms Will Be a Condition of Peace.

Paris, April 25.—President Diaz of Mexico has cabled the Paris newspapers that the government of Mexico is confident that internal peace will be restored.

Mexico City, April 25.—Senor De La Barra, minister of foreign affairs, says that the prospects for peace are excellent.

El Paso, April 25.—There has been no agreement as yet, though Francisco Madero, commander-in-chief of the insurrectos, has met the peace commissioners several times. There is a hitch now on how the arrangements will be carried out. Madero wants the federal government to name commissioners who will be able to act in a binding manner for the federal government. He would obviate the necessity of carrying on so much telegraphic correspondence with Mexico City.

One of the demands of Madero is that the provisional government governors now on duty in the states of Chihuahua, Durango, Coahuila and Sonora be allowed to remain in office until an election can be held, the federal governors for these states retiring.

Madero will also insist that his men must not be disarmed. If they disperse they are to go to their homes with their arms. This is to be part of the federal guarantee of good faith.
If good faith is not shown by the government, then the war can be resumed.

Madero will insist that the disbandment shall not be in the nature of a surrender. He is willing, it is stated, to have a certain date set for ending the war, after which all men with arms will be considered traitors or bandits. He will insist that ample time be given all the men in arms in all parts of the country.

All who return to their homes and cease operations by the date set are to be exempt from prosecution for any act of war they may have committed against the government during the time they have been in arms, up to and including the date set for final disbandment.

Madero will insist that his men now in office in the four states named and the local officials whom they have placed, be retained, as he claims they have been selected in accordance with the will of the people and that their installation is the first step toward reforms. He will consent to the other governors remaining in office pending the expiration of their present terms, meantime the no-re-election clause to be adopted in all states and by the nation, so that full and free elections will be held as official terms expire.

As to the carrying out of the reforms offered by Diaz, Madero is willing to accept the assurances of the cabinet and the men who are acting in behalf of the cabinet and the president—Braniff, Obregon, Hernandez and his father.

do this necessitated a change in the girl's appearance.

"The story dates back to two years prior to October 8, last," said Mr. Pauley, the husband, as he sat in the office of Capt. Crane at police headquarters. "I had been courting the girl during that length of time. Then I asked her father for the girl, but he told me to 'wait awhile.' Twice after that he told me the same thing when I applied for a job as his son-in-law. Stella did not want to wait. Neither did I, so we did not wait. We took a train for Covington, Ky., and were married there on October 8 by a justice of the peace whose name was Wheeler, I believe.

"We had a hard time to make ends meet. We lived for a while with my father, but the house was not large, so we moved. We moved again, but there was nothing for me to do in the little town and I had heard there was plenty of work in this city. I decided to come here alone, leaving Stella until I could find a place for both of us. She so wanted to begin housekeeping.

"But one great obstacle came into the road. How could I leave the girl? She refused absolutely to be left alone at Liberty and we had nothing on which to live while here. We figured and the plan was suggested that she come to the city with me attired as you see her now. I demurred at first, but she was insistent. Finally we decided that was the best plan.

"I cut off her hair and procured a suit of clothing for her to wear. She donned it and we started for the city. Saturday night we left Liberty, walking a part of the way to save money. She was great to save. We took a train at Rushville and here we are. I have a sister here and she promised to meet us at the Terminal Station but before she arrived the officer arrested us."

A touching scene was enacted in the captain's office when it was made known to the girl that she was under arrest. Clinging to the arm of her husband she refused to allow him to be taken from her. She cried and sobbed pitifully when told that she must spend the night away from him. With her arms thrown around his neck she sobbed convulsively when forced to bid her husband good-by.

According to the husband's statement, James W. Rogers of Richmond, Ind., is the girl's father.

She is but 16 years old and frail, but determined. She was dressed in a blue suit of rough clothing, a blue shirt and a wide-brimmed sombrero hat. Her hair had been cut short and she carried the sheared braids wrapped in a newspaper in an inside pocket.

Her frail form and feminine features made her a marked character, say the police, when she walked through the Traction Terminal station, but she did not mind, and clung to the arm of her husband.

It was their intention, she said, to attempt to obtain employment side by side today.
